"Not Guilty."

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The have been many different stories published in the papers throughout the State about the murder of Mrs. Eggleston, an old lady 65 years of age, at Antelope Valley, Mono county, California. One of the stories which has been published there is not a word of truth in, the story that I refer to is the one that Dick Watkins, a lawyer, is guilty of murder. This is false. Mr. Watkins is a highly respected citizen of Antelope Valley and has never been suspected of the crime. He is the present postmaster of Coleville, Cal., and has the confidence of all who are acquainted with him. He has practiced law in Mono county for over twenty years. In justice to the gentleman who has been published as guilty of the terrible crime of murder, the above statement is made.

JUSTICE.

The APPEAL regrets exceedingly having given circulation to the false and malicious report, and is ready to do all in its power to correct the matter, and place Mr. Watkins before the public in the proper light.

A Thief's Fate.

San Jose, Mar. 22.—A block of brick buildings in Chinatown was destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss is about $10,000, partially insured. The remainder of Chinatown was in danger of being swept away several times during the conflagration, but the flames were confined to the block destroyed.

San Jose, March 22.—It is reported that the fire originated in a gambling den at 2:30 this morning. Just as the game was concluded a Chinese highbinder entered and grabbed a tray of money. He was shot and ran out and the money was scattered all over the floor. The occupant began to scramble for the coins, and in doing so upset the lamp, and the place was seen a mass of flames. The Chinamen were more anxious to secure the money on the floor than to subdue the flames.

The highbinder who was shot is said to have entered a place which was afterward destroyed by flames, and it is believed that his charred remains will be found in the ruins.

Will Veto It.

Washington, March 22.—There is good authority for the statement that President has not yet decided what he shall do with the Seigniorage bill. He is said to incline towards a veto and to take the position that the purposes of the Act are not covered by the provisions of the existing law authorizing the coining of bullion, by which the Secretary of the Treasury is empowered to coin seigniorage when earned.

Chicago, March 22.—A Washington dispatch says that the President will veto the Bland bill. He reached the conclusion last night. He has prepared a draft of his veto message, and will submit it to the Cabinet tomorrow. For this statement there is the authority of one of the closest financial associates of the President.

Held Four Aces.

"Newspaper publishers in the interior are warned against Mike de Young, an apprentice in our office, whom we took in last week to make a newspaper man of and teach how to boss a composing room. He cleaned the proprietor of this paper out of $1,700 on four aces and then skipped out for Yuba city. We discovered after he left that there were two more aces in the pack, against which our five queens had but a slim chance. He is no longer authorized to solicit subscriptions for this paper.—Midwinter Appeal.

A Musical Cat.

At the Holstein ranch is a cat which has a great ear for music, though she seems to care more for the Sunday school song, "Gates Ajar," than any other.

The minute the proprietor's youngest daughter begins to sing that song, pussy comes to her, licks her hands and face and gives every evidence of being highly pleased, occasionally introducing a few treble notes to complete the harmony of the upper register. "After the Ball" is used to keep the cat out of the house nights.

The large French plate glass in the front of Golden's jewelry store was cracked the other day. It is too small a crack to spoil the entire window, so it was turned end for end and the crack placed on top. A new glass would have necessitated an expenditure of $125.

COAST NEWS.

Stockton butchers have organized against bad paying customers.

D. M. Smith, an Indian trader at Navajo Station, N. M., has been murdered by renegade Indians.

John Stovell, aged sixty, a resident of Geyserville, was knocked down and robbed of $45 by Abe Adcock, a rufin.

Santa Ana held a mass meeting Saturday to plan the campaign to close saloons in Orange county on Sunday.

On several occasions this winter in Asotin county, Wash., deer were seen on the lower prairie feeding along with the range stock.

The Fort Thomas and Bowie stage was held up near Solomonville, A. T., Tuesday. The passengers were lined up and robbed, and the mail sacks were cut open and the registered mail taken.

A mountaineer took to Santa Ana a large condor which he killed in Sequel Canyon a few days ago. The bird measured 9 feet 4 inches from tip to tip, and is said to be the first of its kind ever seen in that portion of the mountains.

C. P. Hughes of Poe Valley, Klamath county, Or., who took a band of horses to Arkansas, has returned. He realized enough from the horses to pay the expenses of his trip, but he says the market is so dull that the transportation of horses is not a good investment.

There were the other day no less than 100 cattle lying dead in and around Caliente, Kern county. Steps were taken to have them buried by the county, and citizens held a meeting at the school house and a subscription was raised to start men at work. Eight men buried sixty-nine cattle the first day.

The notorious case of Emma A. Tilton of San Francisco vs. M. O'Dell, the wealthy rancher of Sisson, for breach of promise, claiming damages in the sum of $20,000, came to trial of Yreka. The plaintiff and her attorney failed to put in an appearance and judgment was rendered in favor of O'Dell for the costs.

MARRIED.

In this city, March 22, 1894, at the residence of the bride's mother, Rev. Mr. Mitchell officiating, G. Herbert McClaskey and Miss Gertrude Bowman.

The contracting parties have a large circle of friends in this section, and the APPEAL joins the throng in wishing the happy couple all sorts of happiness.
